TOWN OF COVENTRY

Meg Sautter represented the CHC at a meeting for a group of horse people who are working with town officials. This committee is an off shoot of the Agricultural Commission and is working on connecting trails through private lands. Meg spoke about the CHC and the various committees the Council represents to educate people on multiple use trails, zoning and legislation. This presentation also covered the CHC Volunteer Horse Patrol Program that was started in 2003 and has since opened riding areas in land trusts, town open spaces and private lands by providing volunteer services to land management agencies.

SPRAGUE LAND PRESERVE BENEFIT RIDE 2011

A Benefit Ride sponsored by WEST GREENWICH HORSEMAN’S ASSOCIATION was held on Sunday, September 25th to help the town raise money to acquire more land for the preserve. The town intends to purchase an additional 230 acres of land from the Watson Heritage Farm to add to the existing 275 acres to the land preserve. There were 93 horseback riders attended the event that raised $2481. Thanks to the WGHA for their efforts, especially Celeste Santos-Rivera and Linda Krul. J&D Screen printing for the t-shirts, and land owners Konow (for the use of their riverside site for ride headquarters), Sarah Ayer, and Watson for permission to ride on their land. Local Volunteer Horse Patrol members, Phyllis Alexander, Loree Oswoski and VHP Coordinator for the Preserve, Gail Miller were also part of the planning.

Lost Silver Mine Horse Camp – Excavator Work – Clearing – August 24, 2011

On Tuesday, August 24th, Excavator work was done at the Lost Silver Mine Horse Camp. Rocks were moved from the campsite entrances. These and other rocks were used to block the 'cut through' middle road off and to surround the "common area". Some low hanging trees branches along the road were trimmed and several sites were graded.

Orange tape was placed around trees along the road to identify them on a 'wish list' for removal in a forestry operation as discussed at the March 8th meeting at Gillette Castle. The most important ones being at the far end of the camp...it's VERY difficult to swing a larger horse trailer around that corner with those trees so close to the road. A total of 15 volunteer hours were submitted to the project. Volunteers were Bruce Wilder, Meg Sautter and Diane Ciano.

In addition, CHC-VHP member Jean Morrison has been working on marking a 5 and 10 mile loop with approved yellow diamonds. She has put in many hours, even riding in the pouring rain to do this., The 5 mile loop from the campground is completed, but it will be awhile before she finishes the 10 mile loop, so beware that the marking is NOT completed.

She reports a large hole right in the middle of Fayette Road, somewhere between that "twisty turny Mountain Laurel trail" and the main trail up to the camp. She also found an Easyboot, a #2 with a gaiter, at the bottom of the gas line. A note was left at the kiosk in the camp, so you can contact her if it's yours.

Connecticut Greenways Council 2011 Fall Update

Submitted by Jan Collins, CHC Greenways representative

The annual Connecticut Greenways Day has been scheduled for Friday October 21st at 1 PM in Andover, CT at the site of the new covered bridge on the Hop River State Park Trail. Five new Greenways will be designated and several Greenway awards bestowed on deserving recipients.

The Council is still working with state government on the restoration of the Greenway license plate funds which were swept into the general fund last year. Once these funds are reinstated, the Council can again give out grant money for trail work.

The Federal RTP (Recreational Trails Program) funds are still in limbo for 2012 but most likely no decisions will be made until after the election which is good news as the program will probably just roll over into the same dollar amount for grants as in 2011. There have been 31 proposals submitted for the hoped for 2012 funds and the RTP committee (with Diane Ciano and Jan Collins representing CHC) will be meeting in October to rank the proposals.

The Merritt Parkway trail study with a million dollar budget is continuing but much opposition is expected from the private abutters of the Parkway.

The DOT liaison to the Greenways Council is Kate Rattan (DOT Transportation Planner and Non-motorized Transportation Coordinator) who is also the liaison between DOT and the State bike/ped committee. Jan asked her to inquire about the status of the proposed new bike/ped map which is supposed to include horseback riding areas around the state submitted by CHC. Also Jan informed Kate and the DOT of the recent horse fatality accident in Clinton and reiterated the need for passage of a Vulnerable users bill and the importance of CHC's Road Safe program.

The 2011-2016 CT Statewide Comprehensive Outdoor Recreation Plan (SCORP)

Background:

The Statewide Comprehensive Outdoor Recreation Plan (SCORP) is a planning document that identifies outdoor recreation issues of statewide significance, and that evaluates the supply of and the demand for outdoor recreation resources and facilities in Connecticut. The SCORP provides unified guidance to state and municipal officials as they develop and expand outdoor recreation opportunities for their respective constituents.

In addition to its value as a planning document, the completion of a SCORP also satisfies a requirement of the federally administered Land and Water Conservation Fund (LWCF), which then makes Connecticut eligible to receive its annual apportionment from the LWCF State and Municipal Assistance Program. Apportionments from the LWCF can be used by the state and its municipalities to acquire new land for outdoor recreation and conservation, and to construct new outdoor recreational facilities.

Trails Chairperson, Diane Ciano serves on the SCORP Advisory Board representing equestrians. CHC made comments and recommendations to the 2011-2016 SCORP, notified its membership of the online survey and encouraged equestrians to attend the 4 public hearings scheduled around the state.

The CT Horse Council has addressed the SCORP in previous years asking for multiple use trails and trail surfaces to include horses, access and adequate parking areas, much needed signage to identify our public lands, including horse friendly signage as well as horse friendly information on their web site. We have also addressed prioritizing uniform multiple use Guidelines with Departmental Policies & communication between different agencies for state & federal funding., i.e. Dept. of Transportation (DOT, Department of Environmental and Energy Protection (DEEP) and the Department of Public Health (DPH).

In the updated SCORP for 2011-2016, CHC asked that the above be moved to a higher priority. In addition to this CHC made note that SCORP monies from the Federal Government should be spent on repairing our trails, bridges and establishing new multiple use trails to accommodate the residents of CT and to encourage tourism to our state. We also addressed the issue of land acquisition that should always include multi-use trails and specifically include horseback riding when purchasing property or when the Department of Energy and Environmental Protection (DEEP) provides funding to private and public organizations seeking money for recreational trails whenever possible.

While the updated SCORP is not available yet, below is an excerpt from one of the parts of the document.

The goals in this Plan are ordered in a sequence that presents the discussion as a natural progression from one subject to the next. They do not represent a prioritization. Connecticut considers them all to be equally important to the universe of outdoor recreation in the state. Connecticut's goals are to:

- Goal 1: Fulfill the commitment to public open space acquisition as set forth in The Green Plan: Guiding Land Acquisition and Protection in Connecticut.
- Goal 2: Protect and restore the natural resources that are fundamental to quality outdoor recreation experiences.
- Goal 3: Protect and restore Connecticut's cultural and historical resources.
- Goal 4: Maximize public access to outdoor recreation resources.
- Goal 5: Maximize the variety of outdoor recreation resources.
- Goal 6: Engage in public outreach to better inform residents and visitors about the availability of outdoor recreational resources, and of the many personal and community benefits of participation.

UPDATE... NORWALK RIVER VALLEY TRAIL - ROUTE 7

Five towns along the Super 7 corridor -- Danbury, Norwalk, Redding, Ridgefield and Wilton -- are planning a different future for the 890-acre corridor. They plan to build the Norwalk River Valley Trail (NRVT), a Greenway that will provide a 27 mile route for cyclists, hikers, and walkers from Calf Pasture Beach in Norwalk, Connecticut, north to Danbury, Connecticut. The Greenway skirts the Weir Farm property in Ridgefield -- now the state's only national historic site -- beautiful woods, limestone glens, and places like the pastel green meadow near the Norwalk River and Miller's Pond. At its northern end, the Norwalk River Valley Trail could easily intersect with the Ives Trail -- the almost-complete 15-mile trail that will run from Redding to Danbury to Ridgefield. To its south, it could cross the greenway trail planned to run along the Merritt Parkway.

In May of this year, residents of all five towns in the Norwalk River corridor were invited to help plan the Norwalk River Valley Trail in a series of 5 interactive community workshops. The committee was looking for input regarding route, use, footing, etc.

CHC called upon local equestrians to attend the workshops and to offer their support and assistance to this project so as not to miss out on a great opportunity to get a new long trail to ride !!!

Although these workshops have passed, CHC urges local equestrians to be vigilant and continue to make an effort to be in contact with the committee by attending their monthly meetings, staying in communication with the planners and getting on their newsletter list. Please pass this information along to local town residents. If horse people don't speak up, horses will not be included, and we will miss out. There are several walks scheduled in the various towns in October, so please be sure to attend and be involved!

October 13th Steering Committee Meeting Open House

Our Steering Committee meetings take place the second Thursday of each month and all of our meetings are open to the public. We would like to extend a special invitation to anyone interested in learning more about the Trail to attend the October 13 meeting, which will take place at 8:00 a.m. in the Wilton Town Hall Annex Meeting Room at 238 Danbury Road (Route 7), Wilton, CT 06897. If possible, please R.S.V.P. at info@nrvt-trail.com so that we can be sure we have enough seats for our guests. In the committee's ongoing effort to understand all the potential user groups, a member of the equestrian community is expected to lead a discussion of the interests and needs of riders on October 13. This will give attendees the opportunity to expand their understanding and dispel common misconceptions. Committee members also participate in a range of sub-committees including the Public Relations, Public Outreach, Contracts Management, Liaison and Fundraising. Attending a Steering Committee meeting or a subcommittee meeting is a great way to both learn more about the Trail and to select volunteer opportunities.

For more info, go to www.nrvt-trail.com

1. Voice your support for the NRVT to your local legislators and your town government.
2. Make a monetary pledge to the Friends of the Norwalk River Valley Trail.

4. Visit the website on a regular basis for news about public hearings and other milestones for the trail.
5. Join the effort by emailing your local contact (above). A variety of opportunities are available to help turn this concept into reality.
6. Please email Pat Sesto at Patricia.Sesto@WILTONCT.ORG with your ideas regarding the Trail, both in your town and elsewhere.

SAFETY TIPS DURING HUNTING SEASON

Hikers, Hunters, Horseback Riders, Mountain Bikers

What You Need to Know When You Are Outdoors

Remember, some form of hunting is allowed in state forests throughout the year, so you should familiarize yourself with the hunting seasons. With the onset of the traditional opening day of the fall hunting season you should see an increase in hunting activity in many areas.

Fall and winter days are great times to enjoy Connecticut's woodlands. Whether you like to hike, horseback ride, mountain bike, hunt or fish, it's a good idea to observe a few safety precautions while afield.

Outdoor Safety Tips

- If you hike, ride, hunt or fish alone, let somebody know where you will be.
- Familiarize yourself with the area you will be using, and know the activities which occur there.
- Ask landowner's permission to hike, ride, hunt or fish.
- Dress appropriately and be prepared for any sudden changes in the weather.
- Wear bright clothing (400 square inches of fluorescent orange for hunters) to increase your visibility.
- Avoid wearing gray, brown, tan or white when hiking in hunted areas.
- Consider using a bell on your bike or horse during the hunting season.
- If you see someone hunting, call out to them to identify your location.
- Peak hunting occurs in early morning and late afternoon, primarily during the months of October through December.

Connecticut Hunting Seasons

Hunting is regulated by the Department of Energy & Environmental Protection as part of its comprehensive wildlife management program. Listings of all seasons and pertinent regulations are published annually in the Connecticut Hunting and Trapping Guide and the Migratory Bird Hunting Guide, which are available from any town clerk or Wildlife Division office.

Hunting Season Dates:

- Bowhunting season starts on SEPTEMBER 15.
- In the fall, peak hunting activity for small game and deer occurs from the THIRD SATURDAY IN OCTOBER THROUGH DECEMBER. Early morning hours (before 9:00 a.m.) are the most active hunting times, especially on Saturdays and holidays.
- Spring turkey hunting season runs from the end of April through the end of May.

There is NO SUNDAY HUNTING allowed anywhere in the state, except at registered private shooting preserves with the town's permission and a permit from the DEEP.

Hunting Areas: Hunting is allowed at: 1) specified state-owned lands (state forests, wildlife management areas), 2) privately-owned land where landowners have granted permission, 3) permit-regulated hunting areas, 4) state-leased hunting areas, 5) registered private shooting preserves, and 6) lakes, rivers and tidal wetlands during waterfowl hunting seasons. Hunting does not occur at most state parks. Consult the current Connecticut Hunting and Trapping Guide on the DEEP website for a listing of state-owned, state-leased and permit-regulated lands that are open to hunting. NOTE: Goodwin Forest is NOT open to hunting.

Seven Tips to Help Save Horseback Riding Trails

Don't let another acre slip away. Be proactive and help protect equestrian trails.

Public and private trails that were once open to equestrians are disappearing every day. What can an average trail rider do about it? Plenty. Here are some tips to get started.

1. Use it or lose it. Here's an easy one: Get out there and use the public trails in your area that are still available to equestrians. It's easier for landowners and decision makers at your local park to close trails to equestrians if there aren't too many riders out there. Be an active, responsible user of your local trails so that the world knows equestrians still exist!
2. Be a good steward. Pay your dues or fees, clean up after your horse and yourself and obey the posted rules of the trail. This may seem obvious, but even experienced trail riders can get careless. Get your friends or local trail riders' group together for trail maintenance days. Volunteer to clean up trash and move fallen branches from the local equestrian trails. Be the kind of trail user that land managers want to have around.
3. Join forces. Become a member of your state horse council, local horsemen's group, or trail riding club. Networking with other riders will help you stay abreast of the issues are threatening riders and rural land owners in your area and provide an opportunity to work together toward positive solutions.
4. Be courteous, even if you don't want to. Yes, equestrians technically have right-of-way on most mixed-use trails, but that doesn't mean you shouldn't be considerate. Make every trail user's interaction with an equestrian as pleasant as possible. Smile and say thank you when someone pulls off the trail to let you and your horse pass. When you encounter an oblivious trail user speeding around corners on their mountain bike or letting their dog run amok, assume that they're not malicious, they just don't know better. Saying, "Would you mind holding your dog over to the side while we pass? I don't want him to get stepped on," is a lot more effective than yelling obscenities, even if that's your first impulse.
5. In fact, make friends with your fellow outdoor recreationalists. We all have similar goals. We want safe, accessible parks and trails in which to enjoy our favorite sports and activities. Speak to local hiking and cycling clubs so you can share concerns and even organize trail maintenance days together. It's a lot better to work through trail conflicts together than to stay isolated from one another and point fingers when problems arise.
6. Know the facts, and share them. Horses often get blamed for having a negative impact on the environment, but research has shown otherwise. For example:
 - o Research from the Delaware National Heritage Program showed that horses and riders were generally less disturbing to wildlife than joggers, hikers and even photographers.
 - o Several studies have shown that waste left behind by horses on the trail did not have an adverse effect on water supplies.
 - o Horses are often implicated in causing accelerated trail erosion, but studies have shown horses do not cause more erosion than human foot traffic or natural environmental processes. Get more information at ELCR.org
7. Call your senator. Many riders enjoy riding in state and national parks and in national forests. Sometimes, these trails are closed or reclassified with little input from users. By knowing what's going on in your state and national government, and rallying your fellow trail riders, you can make sure your voice is heard. Believe it or not, those phone calls and letters to your senator or representative do matter. Keep up with national issues through the American Horse Council, the Equine Land Conservation Resource, and Back Country Horsemen of America.

CT Horse Council mourns the tragic loss of Trapper Jake Mint

The Connecticut Horse Council would like to offer our deep condolences to Dr. Lynda Perry who lost her horse Trapper Jake Mint in a tragic accident.

While Dr. Perry was riding Trapper along the shoulder of a public road, a motorist struck them. Dr. Perry sustained injuries from which she is recovering, however her beloved Trapper suffered mortal wounds and was euthanized at the scene.

It is truly a heartbreaking story and CHC and the Volunteer Horse patrol are deeply saddened by this untimely death.

Trapper Jake Mint was a 15 year old Lippitt Morgan horse. Dr. Lynda and Trapper have been members of the CT Horse Council's (CHC) Volunteer Horse Patrol Program since its beginning in 2003 when CHC and the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) partnered to add on to their volunteer program - a horse patrol to serve as the eyes and ears of our state parks and forests.

Lynda and Trapper worked as a great team to greet visitors to the parks and forestlands they patrolled. Trapper was always willing to stop to greet visitors and allow adults and children pet him. He was a fine example of a patrol horse. Often Lynda's logs would mention that she would stop Trapper so that walkers with dogs could introduce their dogs to a horse. Trapper was also a dressage horse and they were both coming home from their lesson when the tragedy struck. Lynda and Trapper patrolled many of the local state parks and forests in her area: Cockaponset SF, Pattaconk SP, Messerschmidt Pond WMA, Hammonasset SP and the Clinton Land Conservation Trust lands. Lynda is also the CHC-VHP Coordinator for Hammonasset SP.

Our sincere sympathy goes out to Lynda on the loss of her horse. May all her wonderful memories of her travels with Trapper bring a peaceful recovery to help heal her broken heart. A candle was lit for Trapper on the Hoofbeats in Heaven Tribute website in honor of his great spirit.

CHC's intentions are to continue on to press for the passage of the Vulnerable User Law which would provide penalties for causing harm to, or death of, a vulnerable user of a public way. Additionally CHC will continue our existing ROADS SAFE program to focus on public awareness of all users of the roads.

Candlelight

*As my candle, burning bright
Sends shadows off on this dark night
It offers peace, and hope and love
To the horses dancing up above.*

*My prayers and thoughts will help them find
Beloved friends they left behind.
So they may comfort us in turn,
And thus it is my candle burns.*

*With quiet tears, lovingly shed
I hear the horses, overhead.
Their pounding hooves are thunder stirred,
For another other friend has joined the herd.*
